Natalie Kluge, Barbara F. Meadow, and James A. Flightner join Montana State University Department of Foreign Languages staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases
Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
University of Montana--Missoula. Office of University Relations, "Natalie Kluge, Barbara F. Meadow, and James A. Flightner join Montana State University Department of Foreign Languages staff" (1962).
https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases/1158
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Three instructors have been added to the staff of the Montana State University Department of Foreign Languages, according to MSU President H. K. Newburn.

Mrs. Natalie Kluge will be a visiting instructor in French. Miss Barbara F. Meadow will teach French, and James A. Flightner, Spanish, Dr. Newburn said.

Mrs. Kluge was born in pre-revolutionary Russia and was educated in schools at Khabarovsky and Petrograd. She also studied at San Francisco State College. She has taught at Kharbin, at Imienpo, Manchuria, and in the College Municipal Francais and the Universite Aurore at Shanghai, China. Since 1949 she has been a private teacher of French and Russian.

Miss Meadow taught French and Spanish at Berea College, Kentucky, last year. She earned a B. A. at MSU in 1960 and an M. A. at the University of Kentucky in 1961.

Flightner entered MSU as a graduate student after taking a bachelor of science degree at Montana State College in 1960. Last year he served as a graduate assistant in Spanish at MSU while completing requirements for a master's degree. He supervised the language laboratory in the National Defense Education Act Institute for Secondary Teachers of French and Spanish, which was in session on the MSU campus from June 18 through Aug. 10.

###