FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A half-dozen new appointments in the Montana State University College of Arts and Sciences have been announced by MSU President H. K. Newburn.

Dr. Richard C. Froeschner will leave his post as entomologist at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., to become an associate professor of zoology at MSU.

Joining the mathematics faculty are Dr. Krishan K. Gorowara of India, as an assistant professor, and Ralph Bingham, a native of Missoula, as an instructor. Wayne Sinning will be an assistant professor and Sondra Horton, an instructor, in the Department of Health and Physical Education. Southard M. Modry will be an instructor in geography.

Dr. Froeschner was on the Montana State College faculty for seven years before going to the Smithsonian Institution in 1961. He had previously taught for six years at Iowa State College. He was an entomologist with the Missouri Department of Agriculture from 1936 to 1954 and served as chief curator of the Museum of Science and Industry, St. Louis, Mo., from 1946 to 1948.

The entomologist holds a B. S. degree from the University of Missouri and M. S. and Ph. D. degrees from Iowa State College. He is the author of articles in technical journals.

Dr. Gorowara comes to MSU from India, where he was on the faculty of Delhi University for eight years. He earned B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of Lucknow and a Ph. D., in 1958, at Delhi University. His work has been published in professional journals.

Bingham taught mathematics at Missoula County High School the past three years. He earned a B.A. degree at MSU in 1955 and an M.A. this year. He has also studied at Washington State University and at the University of Minnesota, where he was a graduate assistant.

Sinning took a B.S. degree in 1953 and an M.S. in 1956 at South Dakota State College. He was a teacher and coach in South Dakota schools from 1953 to 1955 and a member of the South Dakota State faculty from 1955 to 1961. Last year he worked on a doctorate at the University of Oregon.

Miss Horton will teach modern dance and other courses in the Department of Health and Physical Education. She is a 1962 graduate of the University of Utah.

Modry was an instructor at Long Beach State College, California, last year. He was cartographer for the Wisconsin State Metropolitan Study Commission, Milwaukee, in 1958 and a geographer for the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C., from 1958 to 1960. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of California at Berkeley in 1955 and a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1959. He did further work at the University of Chicago in 1960-61.
