FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Montana high school seniors have until Saturday, June 1, to register for the last examination this school year of the American College Testing Program, according to Leo Smith, Montana State University registrar and state ACT coordinator.

The examination will be given Saturday, June 22, at the following test centers: MSU, College of Great Falls, Eastern Montana College of Education, Montana State College, Northern Montana College, and Western Montana College of Education.

These institutions are among more than 700 in the United States that require or recommend that applicants for admission take the test, Smith noted. Other Montana schools requiring or recommending the test are Montana School of Mines, Carroll College, Rocky Mountain College, Dawson County Junior College, Custer County Junior College, Columbus School of Nursing and St. Patrick School of Nursing.

June 22 is the last of four test dates scheduled for the 1962-63 term, so high school seniors seeking admission to any of the ACT-affiliated colleges or universities should register for the test before the June 1 deadline, Smith stressed. Students may obtain ACT registration forms and instructions from their high school offices.

Colleges and universities participating in the program use test results for admission, guidance of in-coming students, awarding scholarship aid, and placing freshmen in classes or programs suited to their ability, Smith explained.

The three-hour examination has four parts that yield five scores: Composite score indicating overall college potential, and four separate scores indicating levels of general capability in English, mathematics, social studies and natural sciences.

Members of the advisory committee for the ACT program in Montana are Victor Beneventi, Carroll College; Ralph Kneeland, WMCE; Maurice Brookhart, MSC; Sister Agnes Kathleen, College of Great Falls, and William Garrison, EMCE.
