FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Eighteen Montana high school newspapers were awarded "All-State" ratings Friday by the Montana State University School of Journalism and the Montana Interscholastic Editorial Association.

"Superior" ratings were given to 48 newspapers and "Good" awards were presented to 15 publications. A total of 81 high schools submitted their newspapers for judging by the School of Journalism faculty.

The awards were announced at a luncheon Friday for high school staff members of the All-State Montana Kaimin. Thirty-seven outstanding high school journalists in the state have been invited to work Friday and Saturday to publish a special edition of the MSU student newspaper.

Warren J. Brier, associate professor of journalism, announced the following ratings:
