FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A mathematician, two chemists and three zoologists have been appointed to the Montana State University faculty, Dean Robert W. Coonrod of the College of Arts and Sciences announced.

The zoologists are Dr. William B. Rowan, associate professor, and Drs. Edward D. Bailey and Gerald D. Schmidt, instructors. Dr. H. Richard Fevold will be an assistant professor of chemistry, and Dr. Judson S. Pond, an instructor in chemistry. Dr. Walter Philipp will be an assistant professor of mathematics.

Dr. Rowan was a U. S. Public Health Service scientist in San Juan, Puerto Rico, last year and also from 1956 to 1958. Between Puerto Rican assignments he taught at Middlebury College. He spent the summer of 1960 in Tanganyika and South Africa doing research supported by a grant from the National Institutes of Health. He held an N.I.H. postdoctoral research fellowship at Oklahoma State University from 1954 to 1956. He holds A. B. and Ph. D. degrees from Cornell University.

Dr. Bailey, who earned B. S. and M. S. degrees from MSU, was awarded the Ph. D. degree by Pennsylvania State University in June 1963. Dr. Schmidt received a Ph. D. in December 1963 from Colorado State University, where he has been a research fellow in zoology for two years.

Dr. Fevold was a USPHS postdoctoral fellow at the Biochemistry Institute at the University of Uppsala, Sweden, for the past two years. A 1956 MSU graduate in wildlife technology, he earned a Ph. D. in biochemistry at the University of Utah in 1961.
Dr. Pond taught last year at the University of Minnesota, where he earned a degree in mechanical engineering in 1945 and a doctor of business administration degree in 1955 and where he is now a candidate for the Ph. D. He has had eight years’ experience in business and industrial positions.

Dr. Philipp, research assistant in the Department of Mathematics at the University of Vienna for the past three years, won a Fulbright travel grant enabling him to accept appointment to the MSU faculty. He was born in Vienna, Austria, and received a Ph. D. degree and a teaching diploma in mathematics and physics from the University of Vienna in 1960. He has published articles in scientific journals, as have Drs. Rowan, Schmidt and Fevold.

###

Dr. John P. Borch will be the visiting professor of philosophy for the academic year 1966-1967, assistant professor of philosophy and Earle Miller, instructor in philosophy.

Dr. Duncan, a member of the English faculty since 1949, holds a B.A. from Yale, an M.A. in linguistics from 1953 and a Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota. Duncan has received the Sigma Tau, the American Anthropological Association and the American Geographical Association awards. He is the editor of the standard text, "The Standard English Dictionary." He has published articles in scientific journals.

Dr. Arthur taught sociology at Montana State University and received a bachelor’s degree with honors in 1947 and a master’s degree in social work from the University of Montana. He received the Ph. D. from the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Borch's department chairman for nine of the last ten years is Dr. Ramsay, an assistant professor from the University of Minnesota. He has conducted ten seminars and other summer workshops at the State College.
