FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Nine new appointments to the faculty of the Montana State University College of Arts and Sciences have been announced by Dean Robert W. Coonrod.

New members of the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Welfare are Dr. Verne Dusenberry, visiting associate professor, and Dr. C. LeRoy Anderson, visiting assistant professor.

Additions to the political science faculty are Dr. Claudius O. Johnson, visiting professor, and C. Barclay Kuhn, instructor. Joining the history faculty are Dr. Hubert I. Beatty, assistant professor, and Lawrence Lowther, visiting instructor for the fall quarter.

Dr. John F. Logan will be assistant professor of philosophy; Dr. William C. Hoekendorf, assistant professor of economics, and Chris Field, instructor in geography.

Dr. Dusenberry, a member of the Montana State College English faculty since 1947, holds a B. S. from MSC, an M. S. in anthropology from MSU and a Ph. D. from the University of Stockholm, Sweden, awarded in 1962. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honorary, the American Anthropological Association and the Montana Academy of Sciences. He is the author of "The Montana Cree" and of articles in professional journals.

Dr. Anderson taught sociology at Willamette University last year. He earned a bachelor's degree with honors in 1957 and a master's degree in 1959 at Brigham Young University. He received the Ph. D. from Ohio State University in 1962.

Dr. Johnson was department chairman for nine of his 32 years at Washington State College. He is the author of "Borah of Idaho" and other books. He holds a B. A. from the University of Richmond and M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Chicago.
Kuhn, a graduate of the State University of Iowa, received a master's degree in 1962 at Northwestern University, where he taught last year. He was a visiting staff member at MSC in the summer of 1962.

Dr. Beatty was an instructor in history at Stanford University from 1956 to 1960 and has since taught part-time at San Jose State College and the College of San Mateo. He has written articles on American history for the Encyclopaedia Britannica. He holds a B. A. from Central Washington College and M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from Stanford.

Lowther is a candidate for the Ph. D. at the University of Washington, where he earned a B. A. magna cum laude and a master's degree. From 1952 to 1961 he taught in various Washington high schools.

Dr. Logan taught last year at the University of Illinois. He received a bachelor's degree in music and a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Texas.

Dr. Hoekendorf taught at Kansas State Teachers College the past two years. He was a Fulbright Research Fellow in Economics at Hitotsubashi University, Tokyo, for two and a half years, and in 1945-46 he completed a 15-month course at the Naval Japanese Language School. He taught Japanese and economic history at the University of Washington from 1953 to 1956 and economics at MSU from 1956 to 1958. He holds B. A., M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Washington.

Field, a graduate of Stanford, is a candidate for the Ph. D. at the University of California at Los Angeles, where he received a master's degree in 1960. He attended the Geographisches Institut, Tubingen, Germany, in 1960. He did field work in the Andes Mountains as a research contractor for the National Academy of Sciences in 1961-62.
