Dean Nathan B. Blumberg of the Montana State University School of Journalism will serve as an American Specialist for the Department of State in the Caribbean area this summer.

He is scheduled to spend seven weeks in Trinidad, British Guiana, Surinam and Jamaica, according to the State Department's Division for Americans Abroad in Washington, D.C.

He will consult with newspaper editors and their staffs in the four countries and also conduct seminars for other journalists who are expected to come from St. Kitts, Antigua, Montserrat, Dominica, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Grenada and Barbados.

Dean Blumberg served on a similar assignment in 1961 when he spent two months in Thailand for the State Department.

He is scheduled to be in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, for most of the month of July and then leave for a week in Georgetown, British Guiana. He is expected to spend five days in Paramaribo, capital city of Surinam, and two weeks in Kingston, Jamaica, before returning to Missoula in late August.
