FOR RELEASE WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16

Ninety Montana State University beginning freshmen will attend Freshman Camp at Camp Paxson on Seeley Lake, Sept. 17-19, as a prelude to orientation activities at the MSU campus in Missoula.

The camp is designed to acquaint freshmen with University officials and student body officers, according to Barbara Nisbet, camp chairman. The camp program will include talks by MSU President Robert Johns, and Associated Student President Robert Liffring and other faculty members and student body officers.

Recreation, a talent program, dancing and a campfire will highlight the three-day event.

Camp facilities limited the attendance to 90. More than 50 applications had to be refused, Miss Nisbet said. In 1963 applications and attendance only totaled 70 students.

Freshman Camp is planned by a student committee. Members of the committee will serve as student counselors at the camp. They are: Shirley Blomgren, Audrey Koehler and Miss Nisbet, Missoula; Mike Fisher, St. Ignatius; Paula Latham and Lynne Morrow, Great Falls; Mary Lindsay, Edison, N.J.; Carol Lockwood, Bozeman; Alice Lee Lund, Williston, N.D.; Gray Mannakee, Cascade; Torval Stockamp, Sun River; Ron Pitt, Denton, and Shelley Thompson, Hicksville, N.Y.
