FOR RELEASE SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 22

John F. Smilgin, assistant director of the Advanced Underwriters Division in the New York Life Insurance Co. home office in New York City, is one of 16 tax experts who will speak at the Institute on Taxation and Estate Planning at Montana State University Dec. 3, 4 and 5. His talk, scheduled at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 4, is titled "The Impact of the New Tax Law on Life Insurance Planning."

The institute, conducted by the MSU Law School, is open to attorneys, accountants, insurance underwriters and trust officers, according to its director, Lester R. Rusoff of the law faculty.

Smilgin, a lawyer and a chartered life underwriter, has been with the New York Life Insurance Co. since 1953. His current duties take him all over the country to lecture at seminars, workshops and conventions.

The speaker is a member of the New York bar and has served on the National Board of Graders of the American College of Life Underwriters. He is a graduate of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania and of the New York University Law School.
