Prof. Emeritus John M. Suchy will be the speaker at the annual awards banquet of the Montana State University School of Pharmacy, Dean Robert L. Van Horne announced.

The banquet featuring presentation of prizes to seniors and of scholarships to undergraduates is scheduled Tuesday, May 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the Territorial rooms of the MSU Lodge.

Families and friends of pharmacy students, pharmacists and everyone else interested are welcome at the buffet dinner, the dean said. Tickets may be purchased at the Pharmacy School office until May 17.

Dr. Suchy came to the University as a student in 1913, received a bachelor's degree in 1917 and, after World War I service in France, joined the faculty. Except for time off to earn M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at Colorado University he taught in the School of Pharmacy until his retirement in 1958. He now lives in Coronado, Calif.
Edward B. Dugan, professor of journalism, will present the O. S. Warden Award of $100, established by the late publisher of the Great Falls Tribune and the Great Falls Leader, to a major student entering the sophomore year. The award is made on the basis of achievement and scholarship in the freshman year of journalism.

The Great Falls Press Club Award of $100 for a major student entering the junior year will be presented by Terry Dwyer, president of the press club. The award is made on the basis of professional achievement, scholarship and need.

The Dean Stone Award of $100 given by the Montana Press Association for a major student entering the senior year will be presented by Lloyd Schermer, publisher of the Missoulian-Sentinel and vice president of the Montana Press Association. Outstanding scholarship and achievement in journalism are considered in making the award.

Richard E. Morrison, vice president and general manager of Lee Newspapers of Montana, will present the $300 Lee Newspapers of Montana Award to a student of any class of the School of Journalism who has demonstrated outstanding scholarship and achievement and who plans to enter newspaper work.

The Melvin and Myrtle Lord Award of $300 will be presented for the first time this year. It will be awarded to a journalism or radio-television student entering the junior, senior or graduate year on the basis of scholarship, probable success and probable difference the award will make in the life of the recipient. The presentation will be made by Andrew C. Cogswell, dean of students and a friend of the Lords.

Other announcements and awards planned for the banquet will be made by Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism society; Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity, and Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship in journalism.

Mary Ellen Myrene of Spokane, a journalism senior and outgoing president of TSP will announce tapping of new members to the undergraduate TSP chapter.

Larry Cripe of Troy, senior and outgoing president of SDX, will present the Sigma Delta Chi Plaque for service to the Montana Kaimin, MSU student newspaper, and the Sigma Delta Chi Citation for the outstanding male graduate.

Warren J. Brier, associate professor of journalism, will announce the 1965 initiates to Kappa Tau Alpha.
