Fall 2013

Husbandry Manual

Caroline Knapp

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/cutbank

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/cutbank/vol1/iss79/31

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in CutBank by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
HUSBANDRY MANUAL

clad is door enough and take this in a wave and it breaks catching up see to that at hand and I have my darted fit this like a conduit
this like a labor
criede at thuse place this is the wood they live in hollow
a teeth and hipbone hinge arrives the fresh skins I have my facture my fracture dissolves into is this Bearer goes away so presently this present like a facet patiently
this with no perspectival or pictorial arrives in like a wave and weather-like
skins
my brushes

are we not clothed in form
the weaver stands the loom and bravely my shaking still
still to shake in this to rend web

this little wile
this morning
I have my composition
this afternoon
this evening

Knapp  133
those roses are in a pile that wind ope'd doors in the wood

I have flesh of my sap

a flash my seep

by perseverant workings the interior

like anything

else

little season

this is my house and this my

+

dead some residue

this kins

this the

+

134 Knapp
I have this moment heard

this is my poore gate

Knapp 135