15 UM GRADUATES
WIN ACCOUNTING
CERTIFICATION

MISSOULA--

Fifteen of the 19 examinees who passed the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) exams administered in Montana this spring are graduates of the University of Montana, Missoula, announced Dr. Jack J. Kempner, acting chairman of the UM accounting and finance department. All those who passed the examinations were certified recently.

Nine of the 15 UM graduates who were certified are 1968 graduates of the University. Jacob G. Banyai, Antelope, who earned a master's degree in business administration from UM in June, is one of the new CPAs.

An additional 18 June graduates passed parts of the exam and will not have to repeat those parts when they attempt certification a second time.

A total of 99 people sat for the exams administered in Montana in May. The tests are uniform throughout the country and are graded by the American Institute of CPAs in New York City.

The examinations will be given again in November for CPA hopefuls in the state.

Those UM graduates who received certification include Rex D. Boller, St. Ignatius; Morris A. Buyse, Custer; Harold V. Dye, Cut Bank; Donald P. Miller, Simms; Dennis G. Minemyer, Garrison; Ronald G. Osterholm, Lewistown; George A. Redding, Butte; David L. Revell, Victor; Kenneth A. Smith, Anaconda; Leonard Noyes, Billings; Gregory L. Hanson, Karl Sorenson, Judith Harkin and A. Warren Wilcox, all of Missoula, and Banyai.
